

NEW FROM FISHBOWL

Meet Juno.

Ask your business anything.

Juno is the AI assistant built into Fishbowl Inventory. It works right beside the screens you already use: ask a question in plain English, and Juno answers from your live data, then helps you act on it.

Juno

in Fishbowl Inventory

Which items are below their reorder minimum?

3 items need attention. Here's what's on hand at each warehouse, and the vendors who can restock them fastest:

 Hex Bolt M8
 Steel Rod 1m
 Brake Cable

Draft the purchase order.

Asking is always safe. Juno shows you exactly what it's about to do and never changes a thing without your approval.

Juno Inventory

Know what's on the shelf, what's selling, and what to buy next.

Instant stock answers. On hand, committed, and available, broken down by warehouse and location.

Catch problems early. Items below reorder minimums and slow movers, with the cash tied up in them.

Stay ahead of orders. Unfulfilled sales orders sorted by urgency, so overdue work surfaces first.

Protect your margins. Gross profit by month, customer, or product. Model a price change before you commit.

Buy with confidence. Compare vendor costs and lead times, then let Juno draft the purchase order for your approval.

TRY ASKING

"Which items are turning over slowly, and how much money is tied up in them?"

Juno Accounting

Your books and your operations, finally in one conversation.

Know what you owe. Bills due, bills overdue, and which to pay first.

Watch what you're owed. Receivables aging, plus how fast each customer actually pays, not just their stated terms.

Reports on request. Cash flow, profit and loss by customer, vendor spend, and item sales, straight from QuickBooks.

Connect the dots. See open purchase orders next to unpaid bills, or check whether an order has been invoiced, without switching systems.

Accounting capabilities require a connected QuickBooks Online account.

TRY ASKING

"What do we owe vendors right now? Show me overdue first."

See what Juno can do for your business.
